RAIL HEADS TO SEEK DROP IN WAGE SCHEDULE

Will Go Before Labor Board and Seek to Have Adjustment

UNIONS NOT WORRIED

No Fear of Cut Any Time in Near Future It is Said

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Railroad executives continued in their determination to ask for immediate reduction in wages, despite the circumstances under which the railroad strike was called off, it was learned today.

The executives will go before the United States labor board and ask a 10 per cent cut. The board, however, will not consider the petition for several months and a ruling cannot be expected for a year. This was the understanding which the board gave the union heads before the strike call was rescinded. Determination of the executives to continue their fight for a wage cut did not disturb the union leaders.

"We are resting easy on the board's assurance they will not cut wages in the immediate future," William G. Lee, president of the Railway Trainmen, said.

The United States railroad labor board announced that if any class of railroad workers ever strike against a ruling of the board they will forfeit all rights gained through the board and will not be permitted to appeal to the board for any settlement of any other disputes. The ruling was made as an aftermath of the threatened October 30 strike, called off on Thursday.

CLANDESTINE LOVE CAUSE OF TRAGEDY POLICE BELIEVE

PORTSMOUTH, O., Oct. 29.—Clandestine love affairs of a pretty 19-year-old Sunday school teacher and church organist here were the only clues authorities had today to a mysterious double murder.

Miss Louise Doyle, religious worker and John W. Newman, 26-year-old father of three children, were found dead in an abandoned house near here after police had searched for them for a week. Three bullet wounds were found in Newman's body. Miss Doyle was killed by a shot through the heart. No weapons were found.

County authorities traced movements of a few of their friends of the slain girl. Mrs. Newman was calm today as she recited her discovery of the first intimation of friendly relations between her husband and the girl. She denied though that they had been intimate. She did not know how long they had been friendly.

"I found some one had called him at the factory last Friday—the day both disappeared," she said. "John was working over time and left shortly after the conversation. Then I found the girl had said she would be ready in a few minutes."

Newman's auto was found the day after he and Miss Doyle disappeared. It had been abandoned on a lonely country road. The automobile was five miles from the deserted house where the murder mystery was unearthed by two farmhands who had gone to clean up the premises.

Police announced the sole theory today that a jealous rival had killed Newman and Miss Doyle while they were riding, carried their bodies to the cottage and driven the machine as far as the gasoline supply lasted. Diamond rings and other jewelry worn by the girl had not been taken and Newman's pockets had not been searched, police said.

WILSON WOULD'NT SEE MARSHAL FOCH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Former President Wilson was unable to see the distinguished marshal. When Foch and his party stopped at the Wilson home, John Randolph Bolling, the ex-president's secretary expressed regret that a visit between the two could not be arranged. It was understood Wilson's physician advised against the meeting on the ground that the former president's war emotions might be aroused by a talk with the allied generalissimo and his condition endangered. Foch then left his card.

WELL KNOWN RANCHER HURT THIS MORNING

Charles H. Cline of 912 West 8th street, Burbank, met with a serious accident at 9:45 this morning while driving his car. Mr. Cline was going north on Olive street and was hit by a Pacific Electric car going west on 4th street. The car was going at such a speed, it is said, that it did not stop for 217 feet after it hit the Cline car. The car was dragged 68 feet from the accident and was completely demolished. Physicians are unable to determine the extent of the injuries as Cline was unconscious at a late hour this afternoon.

Generations He Has Observed Most Part Fools Says Edison

Because Thomas A. Edison says the generations coming under his observation have been fools for the most part, Henry James in his comments on the news of the day takes direct issue with him. But Mr. James says Edison has great dreams, a brain and a body that co-ordinate perfectly and so he says Mr. Edison is amazed that others are less gifted.

James W. Foley in "The Listening Post" shows how business goes dead, why manufacturers discharge employees and stagnation rules until adjustments are made. He says the world is suffering from disorganization, too little production, too much fear and waiting and uncertainty. It's good, clear logic. Read it.

Dr. Frank Crane writes of the Ku Klux Klan, Della M. Stewart informs you how you can travel and yet stay at home, and John Todhunter's poem, "Maureen," will fill your heart with love.

GLENDALE WON 21 TO 12 YESTERDAY

Combination of Brilliant
Plays With Luck Lands
Local Team

Glendale won the football game with Citrus Union high school Friday afternoon on Boyce field through brilliant playing and luck. The score was 21 to 12. In the first half the score stood 7 to 6 in Glendale's favor, and in the second half the local boys made two touchdowns. They kicked goal successfully each time. Citrus made another touchdown but failed to kick goal. The touchdown made by Glendale in the second half were due to carelessness on the part of the Citrus players. The first was made when a Citrus player dropped the ball and the second occurred after a fumble of a forward pass by the Citrus players. Both of these touchdowns were made possible by the interference and speed of the Glendale players.

Terzo, at quarterback ably filled the place of Chet Green who is out on account of injuries received in the game with South Pasadena. Green will probably be back in the game in time to play against Monrovia. Brick Ryan, playing end in place of Goss is playing a pretty game for a new man on the team. He seems to have the happy faculty of sensing a play and being in the right place at the right time. McCourt and Dutcher did some pretty work yesterday and their tackling was a feature of the game.

AVENUE ASS'N. HAS REGULAR MEETING

A well attended meeting of the Glendale Avenue Improvement Association was held Friday evening in the city hall. C. H. Levy, president, presided. Reports from committees circulating petitions for the electrification of the railroad line on Glendale avenue were submitted and showed that about 400 signatures of property owners had been secured. Some of the committeemen reported they had not been able to entirely cover their territory and asked for an additional week's time, which was granted.

QUAIL SEASON WILL OPEN ON TUESDAY GOOD PROSPECTS

Duck Shooting Better, With Fishing Fast Becoming
Out of Date

As the quail season nears the opening date, November 1, Gus Wangerheim of the Neale & Gregg hardware store, an authority on all matters pertaining to hunting and fishing, says that from indications, this will be one of the best quail seasons ever. Numerous early rains have brought out the small tender blades of wheat which will make quail shooting in the valley excellent.

There are already a lot of birds in the Lancaster region and in Mint and Bouquet canyons. Other good hunting grounds are Santa Monica mountains, Santa Susana mountains, near Elsinore, through Beaumont, Banning, Imperial valley, Palm Springs and in the lowlands near Mecca.

Quite a few quail have been seen in the hills around San Fernando and around the reservoir. Hunting in this vicinity should be very good. The best hunting will be in the hills surrounding Lancaster and at Palmdale and the surrounding desert. Many local hunters have signified their intention of making trips to Victorville and Deen Creek wash.

Duck hunting in the southern portion of the state is improving, and it is due to the cold weather in the north. The mild winter in the north kept ducks in that region. During the past week there have been several cold spells in Northern California and other coast states and the ducks are starting south. While the hunting in this section is showing considerable improvement Mr. Wangerheim said that he would not advise hunters to go out with the expectation of bagging very large birds for they are still scarce.

Hunting is good in Imperial Valley and on the Salton Sea and hunters are practically assured of bagging a large number. The gun clubs are hunted out and ducks are flying to the inland lakes. Elizabeth Lake has, since the opening of the duck season, been the Mecca for numerous hunting parties and is practically hunted out and the district around Elsinore is the same. Hunting in the sloughs around Anaheim Landing and Sunset Beach is fair. The ducks in this vicinity are mostly waterfowl. There are plenty of shore birds near the beaches but they are hard to get at and hardly worth the trouble.

With the exception of several big catches of corbina and yellowfin in the neighborhood of Sunset Beach, fishing all along the coast is very poor and Wangerheim would not advise anyone spending the week-end trying to fish. The return will not pay for the time and trouble. Even trolling from boats is at a standstill. The season is too far advanced for good fishing of any kind and only a few catches medium large have been resorted during the past week.

CERRITOS GIRLS DEFEAT EAGLE ROCK

Home Players Show Much
Strength in Team Work
Here Friday

The first volleyball team composed of girls of Cerritos Avenue school, played a game with Eagle Rock's team Friday afternoon on Cerritos grounds which resulted in a score of 30 to 8 in favor of Cerritos.

Mrs. Irene McReynolds is playground director at Cerritos and the visiting team was attended by its director, Miss Landriano. The home players are very strong in team work and all played a good game. It has a schedule of four matched games to be played with different schools in the near future. November 9 it will play a rubber with Intermediate. Next Wednesday Cerritos will play a rubber with Intermediate. It will make a rubber with Intermediate. It will make a rubber with Intermediate. It will make a rubber with Intermediate.

ELKS DECORATE TO PUT ON BIG PARTY

Members of the entertainment committee of the Glendale Elks' Lodge were hard at work Friday night, placing Halloween decorations in the big lodge hall and corridors. Strands of yellow and black paper cut in airy designs, made feathery festoons from chandeliers to chandeliers that were wonderfully pretty, and created an Oriental effect with the green and yellow pumpkin-shaped lanterns covering the electric light globes that adorn the walls. Joseph Bellue was given credit for the artistic decorations. It will make a charming setting for the party to-night, which is limited to Elks and their ladies.

POLICEMEN TO GET OUT IN BLUE SUNDAY

Glendale policemen have the blues. The department has received winter uniforms of blue and Sunday they will shed their summer uniforms of tan and blossom forth arrayed like Solomon in all his glory in nice new blue uniforms. Orders were placed for the winter uniforms several weeks ago and the tailor promised to have them ready, but some delay occurred and the uniforms were not delivered until today. An order is on the bulletin board in the police station announcing that tomorrow morning the entire department will don uniforms of blue.

THREE 1-ACT PLAYS DRAMA SECTION TUESDAY CLUB

Cast Announced for Dramatic Bill November 18th Here

At the meeting of the music section Friday, announcement was made of the cast selected for the three one-act plays which are to be put on by the drama section of the Tuesday Club November 18 at the Glendale theater. As a benefit for the club house fund, the tickets being at three prices, 50c, 75c and $1.

The excellence of the program given last year by this section was a pleasant surprise to Glendale which has not even yet waked up to a realization of its local talent. Those plays are still talked about and the reputation they made should fill the theater to the doors when the drama section makes its next bow before the footlights.

This time no advertisements will be solicited for the program. Instead, the section will advertise the merchants by thinking them for past courtesies.

Following are the plays and casts selected:

"POOR OLD JIM."
(A comedy by William C. DeMille.)
Jim Ray Galvin
Marie, his wife Gladys Gibbs Sherman
Paul, the doctor Dr. R. E. Chase

TWO ROMANCES TO FOLLOW BIG TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—Two romances depend upon the outcome of the Kennedy murder trials, it developed here today.

"I hope and am confident of a reconciliation with my wife if I am exonerated," Arthur C. Buch said today. His wife obtained a divorce since Buch was indicted in connection with the tragedy. She is now staying with their baby son, at Evanston, Ill., with Buch's parents. Exonerated of Madalynne Obenchain, who will face trial immediately after Buch in connection with the same murder, would be followed by a reconciliation with her divorced husband, Ralph Obenchain, it has been rumored. Obenchain, an attorney, is taking an active part in the legal battle to free his former wife.

FOUR MILLION MARK PERMITS FOR GLENDALE

Total for Month Will Probably Reach
$600,000

FAR AHEAD LAST YEAR

Story Put on Wire by Glendale Daily Press Today

Glendale building permits have reached the four million mark and exceeded it by more than $3,000. Hal Davenport was issued a permit this morning to build a four-room store building valued at $8,000. This brought the total for the month up to $582,680 and the yearly total up to $4,002,680. A permit for a $500 structure was issued to the Davis Glendale company which brought the mark up to $583,180 for the month to date, and $4,003,180 for the year. The total for the month of October exceeds September's record by $62,671 to date, while the last year's record for the entire year is exceeded by $865,916. Last year, building permits issued during the entire period totaled $3,137,264 and at this date last year amounted to only $2,648,67.

If building maintains its present speed for the remainder of the year the total should almost reach $5,000,000. Permits issued for almost every month this year have reached $500,000. The monthly total shortly before noon today was $582,680, but permits issued just before the building inspector's office closed brought the total up to almost the $600,000 mark for October. It is assured practically that before the month ends the total will have reached this mark.

Through the United Press leased wire service in its office, the Glendale Daily Press this afternoon dispatched to all newspapers in the country taking United Press service, the story of building activities in Glendale. This story will be carried by some 900 newspapers with a circulation estimated at several millions.

MARSHAL FOCH MADE ROUNDS CAPITAL THIS MORNING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Marshal Foch today exchanged greetings with President Harding in the historic "blue room" of the White House. The massive bulk of President Harding towered over the little gray-haired Frenchman, an Ambassador Jusserand interpreted the exchange of felicitations. Harding greeted Foch in the name of the American people, and thanked him in their name for his service to humanity. The visit lasted approximately 15 minutes.

After leaving the White House, Foch went directly to the capitol, where he called on Vice-President Coolidge in his room off the senate chamber. Jusserand presented Foch to the vice-president. After greeting Coolidge, Foch drew himself in stiff military fashion and saluted the large painting of George Washington hanging in the vice-president's room.

PRIEST SLAYER IS NOW IN BLACK HILLS

LEAD, S. D., Oct. 29.—The murderer of Father A. B. Belknap has been traced to the southern Black Hills and will be arrested soon, authorities said today. A motive for the murder has also been found. Incriminating evidence was found in the room of a young Orlando, a young Italian miner. It included blood-stained gloves and a revolver. Trainmen on a freight running out of here said they had trouble with a man of Orlando's description on a trip to Edgemont last Wednesday, the day of the murder, and the day Orlando disappeared from his boarding house here. They said they had put the man off the train several times and he finally was made to stay off when the train reached Edgemont.

Orlando had made definite arrangements with a 16-year-old girl to start for Butte, Mont., in an automobile at 5 a. m. last Wednesday. The girl kept the appointment but never heard from Orlando. Fellow boarders said Orlando returned to his room about 4 a. m. Wednesday and remained until 10 a. m. He was not seen after that. Father Belknap was murdered at 8:30 a. m., after he had failed to start his automobile. Police believe the man wanted the car.

JAP DELEGATES IN STORMY VOYAGE

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 29.—The Kaishima Maru, bearing the Japanese delegation to the disarmament conference docked here at 7:20 a. m. today after one of the stormiest voyages ever experienced in crossing the Pacific. Five days out the encountered a typhoon lasting several days, the waves breaking entirely over the ship and estimated sixty feet higher than the forecast for two days.

Lessons For Drivers Urged to Combat Death Tolls of Auto

With reports of deaths from automobile accidents coming in at an average of one every thirty-five minutes, and with this death rate increasing steadily, twenty-five men representing the automobile interests, insurance companies, the public, the industries, automobile clubs and various governmental agencies, met at the headquarters of the national safety council, recently, to perfect plans for a war of elimination on avoidable automobile accidents.

It was granted by most of the speakers at the meeting that some automobile accidents are unavoidable, but the consensus of opinion was that but the very few. Blame for the greater number of automobile accidents which kill more than 10,000 persons and maim thousands of others every year was placed equally upon the shoulders of careless pedestrians and reckless drivers.

SET OF LESSONS

A set of lessons and bulletins on the safe operation and maintenance of automobiles and motor trucks has been prepared by the National Safety council for distribution among owners and drivers of automobiles and motor trucks. Copies of these lessons and bulletins have been submitted for criticism to approximately 250 men, including the entire directorate of the National Safety council, the men in charge of the principal automobile schools, officials of the larger automobile publications, automobile manufacturers, and others who have made a close study of the problem.

The first five lessons, covering brake inspection and operation and care of steering apparatus, were criticized and approved at the last meeting of the committee. These two parts have been responsible for most of the automobile accidents due to mechanical defects.

C. N. Maurer, of the Motor Vehicle division, Wisconsin State Highway commission, in discussing the care of automobile brakes, said:

"The repair and adjustment of brake linings is a skilled mechanic's work and should be handled accordingly. Too many drivers who are not familiar with the construction of brakes, attempt to remedy their own brake band difficulties with the result that the work is often poorly done and the brakes do not prove worthy in the emergency. Garage owners should see that only experienced workmen are allowed to repair brakes; helpers should not be allowed to do this work. Brakes constitute the most important part of an automobile so far as safety is concerned. They should be tested every time the car is driven from the garage, for there is always possibility that the bands may have snapped or become disconnected while the car is standing. Railroad engineers are required to make brake tests on their locomotives and the ability to stop quickly is no less important in automobiles than in railroad trains."

MAURER'S SUGGESTIONS

Mr. Maurer's suggestions were approved and added to the lessons, and the discussion on inspection, operation and care of automobile brakes continued.

"Drivers should become familiar with the idling speeds of their cars," said F. H. Squires, divisional sales manager of the White Motor Car company. "They should be instructed that it is never wise to brake beyond the idling speed. If the wheels become locked, control of the car is lost and skidding is apt to result."

The committee agreed to prepare a chart showing how far an automobile will travel after the application of brakes at various speeds. This chart, along with another explaining the most effective brake tests, will be included in the lessons.

REVISED TRAFFIC SIGNAL

A set of revised traffic signals and rules for the road were approved by the committee and will make up an important section of the lessons. The committee will make an effort to have traffic regulations standardized throughout the country.

Lieutenant Martin of the traffic division, Chicago police department, in discussing present traffic signals, said: "It is not necessary to have such a complicated system of hand signals. Few motorists understand or observe them. A simpler set would be much more desirable. It is generally sufficient for the driver to extend his hand outside the car. If this signal can be seen, the automobiles following will understand that the driver is about to turn in one direction or the other and they will slow down accordingly. If extending the hand could be understood and obeyed as a signal to slow down, it would be much less confusing than the complicated set of signals that many drivers are now using."

"Some special arrangements must be made for signaling from closed cars and from trucks where the load obscures the driver. Several mechanical devices for this have been tried out but most of them have been unsatisfactory."

NEW REGIME HASN'T GIVEN ALL PLUMS AWAY TO DATE

Two Embassies Still to be Given to Loyal Workers of G. O. P.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Half of the much-sought-for diplomatic plums have now been given out by the Harding Administration. Of the forty-six positions listed under the heading, "Embassies and Legations of the United States" the President has thus far designated 23 appointees.

Of the remainder there are still two embassies and twenty legations to be disposed of, and, as one high official recently remarked, "there is no dearth of material from which to draw."

The ambassadorial posts which have been filled are Brazil, where the Wilson appointee, Edwin V. Morgan, was retained; Chile by Dr. W. Miller Collier; France by Myron T. Herrick; Great Britain by Colonel George Harvey; Italy by Richard Washburn Child; Spain by Cyrus Woods; and Japan by Colonel Charles B. Warren. The two recognized embassies to which an ambassador is yet to be appointed are Argentina and Belgium.

With the ratification of the peace treaties President Harding will be enabled to nominate ambassadors to Germany and Turkey. The latter post has by unwritten law always gone to a member of the Jewish faith. The dismemberment of Austria as a result of the war will probably mean the lowering of our post at Vienna from an embassy to a legation. The appointment of an ambassador to Mexico waits upon the recognition of the Obregon government there by the United States, and no one can predict when the embassy at Petrograd will be restored.

The legations that have been filled and the appointees of the Harding administration are: Bulgaria, Charles W. Wilson; China, Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman; Czechoslovakia, Lewis Einstein (promoted); Denmark, Dr. J. D. Prince; Finland, Charles L. Kagey; Guatemala, Roy Davis; Nicaragua, John E. Ramer; Panama, Dr. John G. South; Rumania, Peter Augustus Jay; Salvador, Montgomery Schuyler; Siam, Edward E. Brodie; Switzerland, Joseph C. Grew (promoted); Venezuela, Willis C. Cook; the Netherlands, William Phillips (retained); with this post goes also the responsibility of Minister to Luxembourg. J. Morton Howell has been named as diplomatic agent and consular agent at Cairo, Egypt.

The remaining plums to be shaken from the legation tree are the posts in Bolivia, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Greece (when the government is recognized), Honduras, Haiti, Liberia, Montenegro, Norway, Paraguay, Persia, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, Sweden and Uruguay. There is also a post as diplomatic agent and consular agent available at Morocco.

Some of the positions will be filled by transfer or promotion of men who have been in the service of the State Department for a number of years, as it is the avowed purpose of President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes to reward merit and faithful service in the department.

SULPHUR CLEARS

ROUGH, RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthosulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ringworm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Menthosulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Adv.

Mountain View Subdivision

A new subdivision on East Colorado Blvd., just east of Verdugo road, is now on the market, at reasonable prices and easy terms.

This tract consists of 60 beautiful, level lots located on the main thoroughfare between Pasadena and the beach and midway between Eagle Rock and Glendale.

Why buy a sand or gravel lot or an unsightly place near the wash for a home when for the same money you can have good, rich soil, fine mountain scenery and near a car line?

If you will call on the owner, I. C. Leggitt, 1122 E. Wilson Ave., he will take pleasure in showing you these lots and arranging terms to suit your convenience. Do not call on Sunday.

Can You Multiply One by One-thirty-two?

There are a great many men who think that if they make a will, they will die within forty-eight hours. It isn't so. You will live your life no matter how early or how late you make your will.

There are a great many men who think it is a long, hard pull to invest in something that takes a long time to own outright. True. But your days are numbered, whether you invest or not.

The man of small means who wants to get ahead has an opportunity to do so by investing in one of our INVESTMENT CERTIFICATES.

If you pay us $1 per month for 132 months, that will be a total of $132 you have saved, and we will give you in return, a $200 INVESTMENT certificate that is as good as gold. You have saved $132 and earned $68.

Come in and let us start you on the road to THRIFT and PROSPERITY. If you can save more than $1 a month from your earnings, buy more than one investment certificate. Tax your income 10 per cent a month and before you realize it, you will have a nest egg for OPPORTUNITY when it knocks at your door.

SAN JOAQUIN ROUTE CROSS COUNTRY FOR MOTORISTS

Inquiries are heard daily as to the condition of the roads which cross the San Joaquin Valley, from the inland to the coast route. Realizing the growing popularity of these routes and feeling that the motorists of Glendale will welcome such information, The Glendale Daily Press has arranged with the Auto Club of Southern California to prepare a survey of the condition of these routes. This is as follows:

VISALIA TO PASA ROBLES—The distance between these two points is 126 miles. Pavement is complete from Visalia through Goshen and Hanford to Lemoore and also south to a point two and a fraction miles on the Stanford road. Swinging right at that point excellent dirt road will be had the remaining distance into Coalinga. This is a new road from Lemoore to Coalinga as the old road paralleled the railroad a part of the distance and passed through the small town of Huron. From Coalinga a very fair road of rock formation will be had to the Alameda canyon for 10.55 miles, where signs will be encountered advising the motorist to swing left for the Parkfield grade, which is easily made as the grades do not exceed 15 per cent at any point. The summit is reached 7.6 miles from the junction of the King City-Peach Tree valley road. Unless rains occur the entire distance from the Parkfield grade will be found in excellent shape and very fair time can be made through Parkfield into Pasa Robles.

BAKERSFIELD TO SANTA MARGARITA—Pavement is complete from Bakersfield through Bower Bank to Lokern. From this point there is excellent dirt road to McKittrick and good dirt highway from there up the grade to the summit for the mountain which overlooks the La Panza and Simmler valleys. The down grade is easy as it is not over 5 per cent and very fair road will be had across the valley through Simmler to La Panza, where the motorist again enters the mountains and gradually works his way to the summit, 85.5 miles from Bakersfield. From here practically no grades will be had for the remainder of the distance through Pozo, to Santa Margarita. By this means no grade over 7 per cent. Total mileage from Bakersfield to Santa Margarita, 110.5 miles. This distance is easily made in five hours.

FRESNO TO GILROY—Paved road will be had from Fresno west for 15.6 miles to Kerman station. Thence fair road for a short distance and rough for about eight miles to Mendota. From this point there is good road to Firebaugh and the same class of road will be had from there to South Dos Palos, thence paved road to Dos Palos. From this point, due to a temporary route, it will be necessary to open and close three gates on the Miller-Lux ranch over a detour of about 10 miles. Following temporary signs continue to the Standard-pumping plant north of the main highway, thence west over a good gravel road for 3 miles to the railroad crossing at the southern city limits of Los Banos. In order to avoid that stretch of road that is known as "the washboards" west of Los Banos, continue north to Volta, thence south-west over a short stretch of highway to the main road, which brings one to the southern entrance to Pacheco Pass. While the grades range from 6 per cent to 14 per cent the road will be found in excellent shape and allows the making of good time through Bell Station to Gilroy. Total mileage, Fresno to Gilroy, 124 miles. Approximate time, 7 to 8 hours.

While there are a number of roads diverging from these cross-valley highways to various coast points it will be found to the interest of the motorist to follow either of these roads selected as nearly as possible.

CAGE CANARIES IN OFFICE HAS RIGHT

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 29.—It's a matter of legality and not sentiment that caused Frank L. Rand to resign as secretary of the Missouri Bureau of Conservation and Wild Life Protection. When seven mocking birds, hatched in nests at Forest Park, were caged in the municipal park Rand quit. It's against the law to cage mocking birds, he declared. In Rand's office six canaries are caged. It's not a violation of the law to cage canaries, he asserts.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat, also take glass of Salts before eating Breakfast

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache and feel like lumps; the lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from back-ache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Drug-gists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

CANADIAN "ACE" LANDS IN GLENDALE

CAPT. SIDNEY GANE

Captain Sidney Gane, an "ace" in the recent world war, is in Glendale and will go in business. During the big struggle Captain Gane was a member of the Royal flying corps of Canada. While at the front he experienced all kinds of thrills, as most of the airmen who participated in real "scraps" did. As every real hero worthy of the name feels, Gane insists that what he did in fighting for his country is nothing but what "anyone would have done" under the circumstances. There is nothing in the way of boastfulness to Captain Gane—he's one of those fellows who perform the deeds and let the other fellow tell about it. It was with the greatest difficulty that he was persuaded to tell a little of his life in the air service.

For a while after enlisting and learning to fly Captain Gane was stationed in England, after which he was sent to Scotland, where he served for a time as instructor of aerial acrobatics and he was for a while instructor in the school of special flying at Ayr, near Glasgow. This was a school in which pilots were taught to become instructors.

Shortly after leaving this school Captain Gane had one of the most thrilling times of his life. While stationed in England his commander called for a volunteer to pilot a machine across the channel to France. Captain Gane stepped forward and he was soon on his way. Concerning this trip he said:

"I had intended to take along my heavy coat on account of the cold and to leave my life preserver behind, and at the last moment I changed my mind and took the life preserver. This proved to be a lucky decision. While above the channel my engine went dead and because I was flying so low I hit the water before I had a chance to recover. I jumped just before hitting the water and when I came to the surface the plane was just disappearing beneath the waves."

"I floated around looking for help, because if a machine failed to arrive at its goal at the other side of the channel a patrol was always instituted. But after an hour and three-quarters by my watch I decided I was done for. A few hours later I was picked up and didn't go west" after all."

During Captain Gane's operations at the front he shot down seven German airplanes, was himself shot down once and sustained five other falls. When speaking of how he felt when he went into action, he said:

"After you get started you forget about being frightened. You are fighting for your life and all your energies are concentrated on getting the other fellow. After the fight is all over you remember what a close call you had and then is when you begin to get scared."

"The air is no place to lose your head," continued Captain Gane. "Every little trick a man has learned during training comes into play. If a fellow loses his head for just a moment or two the chances are that there will be a new face in Heaven."

Captain Gane is in Glendale and he says he's here to stay. He is in partnership with Mr. Richards in a new auto accessory store at the corner of Colorado and Brand. This store will be ready and open for business Monday. The many things that are required by the motorist will be carried and everything sold will be guaranteed.

OH SKINNAY! LOOKIT WHO'S CUM TO TOWN

Hark! Hark! The dogs do bark. The Beggars have come to town. Friday night, police officers were busy rounding up hoboes and escorting them out of town. The vanguard of the winter army of tramps arrived in Glendale Friday night and took and for a while the streets looked like headquarters for Coxey's army. Police officers got busy and rounded up the "knights of the road" and, after taking them to the police station to be searched and questioned, escorted them to the city limits and told them to travel.

There were old hoboes, young hoboes, fat ones, lean ones, tall ones and short ones. Some of them were fairly clean, while others carried the dust collected during many years of wandering through many states. Several were little more than boys, while one or two were men of the age when the average man is thinking of retiring from business.

One of the hardest looking of the lot was a youth of possibly 23 years, who was young in years but old in experience and from his attitude and the lines of his face, his experience had not been acquired in Sunday school.

In New Home—Mrs. J. W. Powell and two sons, who for some weeks have been living on Mariposa court, have taken possession of a home which they recently purchased at 505 East Palmer avenue.

Mrs. Harriet Frank of 1558 East Wilson avenue, who has been confined to her home the past three weeks on account of illness, is slowly improving.

OCEAN BREEZES ARE CALLING SUNDAY MOTOR TOURIST

A few good lungfuls of crisp, fresh salt air, coming directly from off the "briny deep" is as good as a dose of Hood's "Gin-Philz" for any man. That's why this week's trip will take the motorist down by the ocean's side. Its jaunt will give the motorist, who is also fond of fishing, a chance to enjoy a little of his favorite sport, for where will a fellow get better angling than he will at Redondo, Hermosa Beach or Manhattan Beach?

From the corner of Broadway and Brand go south through South Glendale, cross the bridge which spans the Los Angeles river, up the Pacific Electric powerhouse grade and on into Edendale. Continue along Lake Shore and Second streets to Figueroa street, thence south on Figueroa street to any street beyond Seventh, when turn right and continue to Main street. Continue south on South Main to Slauson avenue, when turn right and continue through Hyde Park and Inglewood and follow the Redondo-Inglewood boulevard to Redondo beach.

There is always fair fishing at Redondo and at this time it is a little better than usual. There are a few mackerel running while other kinds of fish will be found to be plentiful. If the motorist does not care for the excitement of Redondo beach he can drive up the shore to Hermosa, or Manhattan beaches or El Segundo. From the piers at any of these beaches there is good fishing. A picnic lunch may be partaken of on the sand or the motorist can secure dinner at one of the many restaurants.

The distance between Glendale and Redondo beach will be found to be between 25 and 30 miles. Every foot of it is over paved road as smooth as a table and if the weather is favorable every moment of the journey will be enjoyed in the extreme. The motorist will want to start home between 4 and 5 o'clock, this landing him in Glendale shortly after dark.

AUTO TRADESMEN MEET NOVEMBER 9

The date for the next general meeting and ladies' night of the San Gabriel Valley Automobile Trade Association has been definitely set for Wednesday evening, November 9. The Hotel Vista del Arroyo has been selected as the place in which to hold the festivities, and promises one of its famous banquets.

Automobile men from Pasadena, South Pasadena, Glendale and Alhambra are making plans to attend this, the second general meeting and ladies' night, to be held locally. The last meeting was such a big success, it is stated, that members have been clamoring for a repetition. After the banquet there will be entertainment that will satisfy everyone.

M. E. Drum, character analyst of wide repute, has been secured to deliver a short address and then illustrate his talk by actually reading the character of numerous members present. His ability to read faces correctly was demonstrated at the recent San Diego convention.

Following Mr. Drum on the program, Norman I. Prosser, local automotive engineer, will demonstrate what can be done with electricity. Mr. Prosser, a graduate of engineering colleges, has an exhibit that is declared to be little short of marvelous. Among his tricks are those of lighting cigarettes, candles, wicks, etc., from the bodies of the bystanders, lighting electric globes under water and many other interesting feats. After this entertainment, dancing will be the order in the Spanish room, and for those who do not care to trip the light fantastic, card tables will be provided. In all, November 9 should prove to be a memorable occasion for those who attend.

NEW LIGHT THROWN ON BURIAL CUSTOMS

HONOLULU, Oct. 29.—New light has been thrown upon the burial places and customs of the ancient Hawaiians through a survey of the extinct crater of Haleakala, island of Maui, recently conducted by the Bernice Pauahi Bishop Museum of Hawaiian and Polynesian Ethnology, Honolulu.

The expedition found in several of the cinder cones which dot the floor of the main crater of Haleakala evidences of the place having been used for burial purposes, and in two of the cones terraced platforms of stone were found, on which were altars, or stone cairns, containing human skeletons buried, according to the old Hawaiian custom, with knees flexed up against the breast. No insignia or other evidence to show the rank of the persons buried in these places were found.

The discoveries are in line with known facts concerning ancient Hawaiian burial customs, but the location of these burial places is deemed remarkable on account of the inaccessibility of Haleakala crater, which is at an elevation of over 10,000 feet above the sea and is entered only with difficulty.

"DANGEROUS CURVE AHEAD" NEW BILL

"Dangerous Curve Ahead!" is the title of a picture which will be shown at the T. D. & L. theatre for two days, commencing Sunday. Helene Chadwick, called the "most photographed girl in America," is featured. Here is the story of the play:

Phoebe Mabey is engaged to Harley Jones, when Anson Newton comes to town from New York. Phoebe flirts outrageously with Newton, resulting in a broken engagement with Harley. After a period of miserable repentance the engagement is renewed, and the marriage follows. Phoebe becomes a mother, and Harley finds himself relegated to the background, in a maze of domestic troubles, including walking the floor of nights with the baby. Go and see the rest—it is most interesting.

Truths in Epigram

The surest way to hit a woman's heart is to take aim kneeling. — Douglas Jerrold (1803-1857).

Nothing can happen more beautiful than death. — Walt Whitman (1819-1892).

The ultimate result of shielding men from the effects of folly is to fill the world with fools. — Herbert Spencer (1829-1903).

ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice day will be celebrated with general and impressive ceremony. This is most fitting. Such occasions serve to keep alive memories, and to stimulate patriotism. They call attention to the bravery and devotion of American soldiers. They bestow honor upon living and dead.

There are certain to come to mind, however, reflections far from pleasing. Armistice day does not bear the full significance that the world had hoped might attach to it throughout civilization. It marked the end of a war, but not the beginning of a perfect peace.

People who looked beneath the surface of events as thousands wildly acclaimed the signing of the armistice, felt premonitions that a mistake was being made. They foresaw that which has come to pass. The affairs of the world were not being settled then. There had come a mere pause in the turmoil of nations. A high mark had been set, and the mark had not been attained.

But the Armistice day of the future may mark the observance of achievements so splendid and beneficent as to be fully worthy of jubilation. For at the date this year is to begin the conference on disarmament. Out of this may emerge measureless good. It may result in an understanding among peoples; the setting up of a mighty fraternity. It may enable nations to see the futility of being armed as though each nation was a potential aggressor, only awaiting the opportunity to prey upon its fellows.

This year there will be thousands of ex-service men in parades, or standing in salute at the graves of comrades who fell. Other thousands suffering from the hurts of war cannot participate. All of these did nobly the work that was required of them. Measured by the liberality of other great powers they have been ill requited. The ex-soldier has a claim upon the generosity and gratitude of his country, that in part, has not been met.

There will be much beautiful sentiment and many fine words.

There is a homely old saying that "fine words buter no parsnips."

ENGLAND IN THE PACIFIC

Determination of the English to put a large fleet on the Pacific is announced. There appears no reason to object. The Pacific ocean is a large body, with room for as many fleets as care to be there. It should be free to any nation. That any one nation should assume to dominate it, could mean nothing less than that the nation in question would be seeking greater power than could be accorded justly or safely.

Japan is said to be anxious to control the Pacific. Japan might as well ask the privilege of controlling the tides, and the stars in their courses.

The United States does not demand such control. It demands only the privilege of sending its ships on their lawful occasions, of protecting such natural interests as it may have or may develop. It does not deny similar privilege to others. It is not trying to set up a monopoly. It could not tolerate the setting up of a monopoly by others.

Because of the statement concerning the intended disposition of a British fleet, a professional hater of England says that it was by such strategy England succeeded in dominating the Mediterranean and Atlantic for a century. This implies that British ships are to chase all others out of western waters. It of course is baseless. Far more sane to regard the dreaded presence as an added guaranty of peace. The best minds of England hold the opinion that in case of threatened trouble between Japan and the United States, the British would be with the United States. The implication of the dissenters is that it now becomes necessary for this country to put upon the Pacific as many ships of war as both England and Japan.

Merely another way to check the trend towards disarmament. The main reason that England became a great marine power while this country did not, was that the United States was too busy with domestic expansion to turn its attention to the seas. Its energy was needed at home. It was in some such position as the man who requires his capital in his business and so rents a house rather than put his money into construction. It rented ships. It was not chased off the seven seas, nor forbidden there. It elected to stay off, and much accept the responsibility.

PERSISTENT MONARCHIST FOLLY

Apparently the serpent of monarchism dies hard. Many superstitious persons believe that life abides in a beheaded snake until the sun has gone down. The royal snake still wriggles. For it the sun has gone down. So this snake is even more persistent than the one of the superstition.

Three families have infested Europe for many years. These are the Hohenzollerns, the Hapsburgs and the Romanoffs. Germany, Austria and Russia they brought to ruin. However far back the story runs, much of it is recent history, familiar to all.

The last representative of the Romanoffs to occupy a throne was Nicholas. While generally regarded as weak rather than vicious, there were times when his official conduct proved that he had inherited the brutality that marked his ferocious ancestors. His rule was a tyranny. That it went down in tragedy and blood was due in part to intrigue, but largely to its own intrinsic character.

Wilhelm, a Hohenzollern, essayed to rule Europe and the world. His uncrowned head is still on his shoulders. Perhaps this fact is to be regretted. The clemency extended to him was wholly unmerited. It was granted as a matter of expediency, and not because he deserved it.

Charles, the Hapsburg, has just failed in an effort to recover his power. It was a bold and foolish endeavor. There was no promise that it could succeed, but it might have succeeded to the point of sending Europe back into the horror of war. He is a prisoner. If permitted to live he will be receiving unearned clemency.

Behind the attempt of Charles was the influence of relatives and members of the former court. There was also a Romanoff and a Hohenzollern influence. In each of the countries so deeply wronged by a royalty proclaiming divine right, there abides hope among the rulers cast out, of once more wearing the purple and holding power in bespecterled hands. Strange as it may seem, some Germans would welcome a Hohenzollern into power; some Hungarians and Austrians, a Hapsburg; some Russians, a Romanoff. In the last case there is least reason to marvel, since the condition of Russia without a czar, is worse than ever it had been under the most vicious czar's rule.

That one ex-monarch, inspired by others, had the presumption to undertake a coup, such as that led to disaster by Charles, was but another indication of the utter selfishness of royalty, when royalty has full sway. It showed that the salvation of the world lies in keeping thrones vacant. It proves that the serpent of kingship, no longer fanged, still writhes, regardless of the fact its sun is below the horizon.

Remarks a Los Angeles paper. "We are expecting every day to hear that Mrs. Madalynne Oberchain has been offered a contract in the movies." But of course it is not expecting anything of the kind. The temptation to throw discredit upon the moving picture industry seems to be resisted with difficulty, or not resisted at all.

"An outbreak of war in Central Europe at the present moment would be unfortunate" ventures an able and sometimes almost over-cautious editor. He is right. The outbreak he mentions could not even by the most optimistic be regarded as a happy incident.

Los Angeles started out to add 1000 men to its police force. The number was cut to 500, then 250. After this it seemed likely to reach the vanishing point. Some of the councilmen apparently are trying to figure out how to appoint less than none.

It may be assumed that the Los Angeles Gas company, about to add $4,000,000 worth of machinery and equipment will patronize home manufactures to the full extent possible. Los Angeles has become a great factory center, and home patronage has made some of its industries large and flourishing.

The explanation of the man detected in carrying munitions of war in the direction of Mexico, is that he intended to stage a battle out in the desert. The idea was some movie picture producer sooner or later would require a battle scene. Evidently a poor excuse is better than none, for he was permitted to get away with this one.

THE KU KLUX KLAN

There has been a rejuvenation of the old Ku Klux Klan which once raged in the South.

It is now proposed to organize something of a similar nature in the north for the purpose of enabling certain members of the community to abate certain evils to which they object, evils which in their opinion the properly constituted authorities do not adequately regulate.

The movement has encountered considerable opposition. A post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has passed resolutions condemning it vigorously. These resolutions declared that the Ku Klux Klan is a "fraudulent, hypocritical, cowardly, vicious and illegal organization, formed with the object of making money for its leaders by promoting religious and racial hatred and advocating bloodshed and lawlessness."

The resolutions also call upon the federal and state authorities "to suppress this organization as a public menace and detrimental to the welfare of the country."

Whether the condemnation of the post of War Veterans is well founded, and whether the motives of the organizers of the modern Ku Klux Klan are honest and promoted by a sincere desire for the public welfare, we do not undertake to say.

But the general idea of a Ku Klux Klan, or vigilance committee, or any other organization of a minority of the citizens, undertaking to step in and take the place of the authorities regularly constituted to maintain law and order, is a dangerous one.

The arguments in favor of it are specious enough. They are the old arguments based upon the idea that the masses of the people are too ignorant, or too negligent, to manage their own affairs and to curb criminals. Only a highly moral, select and superior minority can do this.

At bottom that was the argument in favor of kings, of monarchs, of aristocracies, and of all governments by the few for the sake of the many. Theoretically, it is pretty enough. In practice, it never works.

No minority not responsible to the people can be trusted with ultimate force.

The dangers of democracy are multifold. But they can be relieved; not by discarding democracy and turning things over to a tyrant; they can be relieved only by improving democracy and making it more effectual.

The cause of all failures of democratic government is the neglect of citizenship and its duties. The only way to cure this is to begin in the right place, which is the public school. It is vastly more important for children to learn how to govern themselves; how to manage elections; select their own officers; make their own laws and obey them, than it is for them to learn arithmetic and geography. And yet in most schools the science of citizenship is a side issue.

Only by training children in citizenship and creating a population that will know its duty and be interested in it, can we cure the fundamental wrongs of democracy.

THE LISTENING POST

A man over somewhere in Utah, we will say, says:
"I will not buy a car this year. Times look a little off."
And a man somewhere else reaches the same conclusion.
And a thousand men and a hundred thousand men in other places.

You might not think the decision of the man in Utah would affect anybody but himself.
That is, if you thought superficially.
But if you think in general terms you will discover that the decision is an important one to a lot of other people.

For a manufacturer of plate glass says to his employees or his board of directors:
"The demand for plate glass has fallen off a lot in the auto trade. We'll have to reduce the force or shut down."
And the decision of the man in Utah and the men somewhere else begins to have its effect.

And the manufacturer of varnish discovers that the demand has fallen off because of the failure in the demand from manufacturers of bodies.
And the manufacturer of leather and steel and a hundred and one things makes the same discovery and reduces labor and output accordingly.

And so the thing goes all through the labor and industrial world.
Like the house that Jack built.
One card resting against another.
And when one of them is touched the effect is felt all along the line.

The man who intended to build says:
"I think I will wait a year or so."
And he waits.
And the order for steel that might have been sent in is withheld.

And a great many orders are withheld.
And the steel manufacturer tells the board of directors that the demand has fallen off rapidly.
There is a surplus of production over consumption.
And the manufacturing stops.

The steel worker who was getting good wages is out of a job.
And the grocer who supplied him loses a good customer.
And the owner of the movie theater finds that audiences are falling off.

The coal miner who was supplying coal and coke for the steel mills discovers that his labor is unavailable.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA M. STEWART

The heroine of one of the latest novels charms her lover by her wonderful appreciation and descriptions of scenes in the Orient and the islands of the east. After marriage, she confesses that all her travelling has been done by the fire-side. With her father as guide, she has pored over travel books and descriptions of countries until they and their art, manufactures, customs and literature have become as familiar as her own America.

Well, why not? There are those of us who have only to say: "Where shall we go this winter? There are others of us who none the less have the wanderlust, yet who lack the means to gratify it by actual travel. But why stay at home? We must outwardly, to be sure. Our winter will largely consist of the same work, the same travelling through snow and wind, the same donning of heavy clothing and overshoes.

But thought is not bound. If we could only realize this more fully, life would lose much of its drabness. Why not use some of our leisure hours for visiting other scenes? The world is so full of interest just now. There is first the foreign news in our papers. There are travel magazines, travel books, books of adventure, of art, of literature. Choose some of these as the magic carpet which shall at times carry us afar from the daily grind.

Let's travel this winter. We may miss some of the thrills, but we shall miss much of the discomfort as well.

Comment on the News

By HENRY JAMES

According to Thomas A. Edison the generations coming under his observation have been for the most part fools.

In a recent interview he declared that nobody could make a statement of fact in a paragraph so clear that more than 2 per cent of the people could understand it.

His judgment would be held in higher esteem were he to raise the figures.

A simple fact, lucidly formulated, will be understood by the average hearer. To a dull or careless mind, a fact could not present the degree of interest that it would to the mind of Edison. The genius is rare. While Edison does not admit that he is a genius, everybody knows that such is his proper classification. His disappointment lies in the fact that he is not surrounded by geniuses.

It was Edison who started the prevalent practice of asking test questions. Those he asked were of a nature that made the task of answering impossible to a large proportion of the persons to whom they were propounded. They touched upon subjects outside the usual lines of investigation; subjects that did not interest; subjects concerning which knowledge could have been of little value to the ordinary mind, the mind that does not love knowledge for the mere sake of knowledge. Why maintain a store house for mental lumber?

Henry Ford is a wise man in his way. He is an intimate friend of Edison. He has accomplished great things in the world. Placed on the witness stand he was utterly baffled by a series of questions that would not have puzzled the eighth grade pupil of average intelligence.

Because Edison has great dreams; because his brain and his body co-ordinate perfectly, he is amazed that others are less gifted.

The courts recently allowed the wife of a pencil vendor $10 a week from his earnings. She had become acquainted with him through an advertisement. After she arrived and found that he was a cripple and an object of charity, she was under no obligation to marry him, but she did. Perhaps a $10 weekly fine represents a fair penalty so far as he is concerned, but regarded from the other angle, it is far too great a reward. The marriage ought to have been prevented in the first place.

An insurance man says that the time is coming when people will live 300 years. Why not a thousand, then? Why not forever? But if the increased longevity finds its limit at the comparatively modest three century mark some portions of the earth are going to be crowded. The only excuse that comes to mind for wanting to live three successive centuries is the fear of dying.

Many persons residing in the west will note with interest the passing of Bat Masterson. His later years were spent in New York as a sports writer. Doubtless as he passed along Broadway his faithful gun, with its score or more of notches, had been laid aside. Masterson was about the last of a once familiar type. He was a killer, but a man of high courage and kindly nature. The individuals whom he put out of the way had been very seriously in the way. They were had men, only prevented from killing Masterson by the fact that he was quicker on the trigger. All his shooting was done either in self-defense, as when he was fighting Indians, or when he was the duly authorized representative of law and order. Officials of his peculiar brand were essential in the days of his sanguinary activities.

Oil men of California are said to be about to get possession of a vast oil tract in South America. They do this by offering a satisfactory price and conditions. It appears to be the right of oil men to buy in any territory available. No objection could be raised. Nevertheless when the Dutch or English put their money into oil lands there is a loud protest that they are trying to control the product. Perhaps even now the Dutch and English are criticizing Americans for grabbing a business opportunity. They would have as much right to object as Yankees could have, were the situation reversed.

CONGREGATION IS DULY THANKFUL

Methodists Have Reception for Rev. Allen, Returned to Charge

A very enjoyable reception of welcome was given by the members of the Burbank Methodist church in the church parlors Wednesday evening to Rev. Allen, who has just been returned to them by the recent conference held in Los Angeles.

At this affair there was goodly number of the congregation present and the evening of music and games was enjoyed by all. Rev. Allen is genuinely popular with the members of this church, all of whom were greatly pleased when they heard that he was to be with them for another year.

MISS RAMP WEDS IN LOS ANGELES HOTEL

Miss Catherine Lois Ramp and Burt A. Cross, both of whom are recent arrivals in Burbank, were married in the parlors of the Alexandria hotel in Los Angeles, Wednesday morning. Rev. James R. Stead, who christened Miss Ramp when she was just a babe, having charge of the service. Only members of the families and close friends attended the affair. Immediately following the ceremony an elaborate breakfast luncheon was served after which the happy young couple left for a tour of the northern part of the state, which will be made by motor. Upon their return from this trip Mr. and Mrs. Cross will be at home to their friends at their new home on Seventh street near Olive avenue. Mr. Cross is junior member of the Ramp-Cross company of which the bride's father is senior member.

CALL FOR AID SENT OUT FOR QUICK AID

Monte Vista Lodge Needs Necessities as Soon as Possible

An extended call is being issued by Mrs. Mulvey for assistance for the Monte Vista lodge. It is claimed that this organization is in need of the necessities of life and the people of Burbank are being asked to assist in this matter, even if only in a very small way. Anything in the way of vegetables, fruit, canned goods, and the like will be thankfully received. The recent call that was sent out by Mrs. Mulvey was not responded to very liberally, and it is suggested that each resident of Burbank consider himself or herself a committee of one to donate something for the relief of these little ones. Mrs. Mulvey will be pleased to receive things of this nature at the Gerda Apartments, corner San Fernando boulevard and Olive street.

MRS. MORELAND IS GRIEVED BY DEATH

Word was received a few days ago by Mrs. J. B. Moreland from Montrose, Colorado, of the death of her uncle, John T. Heath, who was nearly 90 years old. Mr. Heath went to Montrose just after it was vacated by the Indians and has been a continuous resident of that place ever since.

MEXICAN LOOTER HIDING IN STATES

Chamber Paymaster Believed Over Border With Loot

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28.—Gay companions, who helped to spend but were unwilling or powerless to help in a crisis, are reported to have been the cause of the downfall of Eduardo H. Diaz, paymaster of the Chamber of Deputies, who disappeared with about $250,000 and is supposed to be somewhere in the United States. The young paymaster was a conspicuous and dashing figure in every gathering and was always surrounded by a crowd of friends or parasites. He was particularly fond of gambling at the basketball games and lost considerable money in this way. These games, because of the gambling feature, as well as the dexterity of the players, always attract large crowds here. Betting is heavy, and large sums are won and lost within a few minutes.

Chaufeur Missing, Too
When Diaz disappeared his chauffeur, also, was found to be missing. This led to the belief that the paymaster left Mexico City in his motor car. One report heard here is that he crossed the border at Laredo and is now in the United States. Another is that he is hiding somewhere in Mexico, having failed to reach the international line in his car because of bad roads.

The disappearance of the paymaster became known when members of the Chamber of Deputies and persons employed in the Chamber went to collect their salaries. There was not enough money in the safe to make the usual payments, and this caused efforts to get into communication with Diaz. It was then learned that he had been missing from the city for several days.

Persons employed in the paymaster's office say that they were not aware that anything was wrong until it became necessary to seek Diaz to get additional money with which to meet the Chamber of Deputies payroll.

Accountants are making an examination of the paymaster's books.

New System Planned
It is probable that a new system of paying the salaries of Deputies and employees will be adopted, for the purpose of more closely checking the paymaster. Diaz is not the first to get into trouble because of the loose system which enabled a paymaster to help himself at any time to large sums. Salinas, the predecessor of Diaz, was accused of carrying off a large sum, and there were other scandals.

Diaz, according to his friends, was the victim of a bad system. He was left in a position to dip his hands into the Treasury and, being young and pleasure-loving, soon found himself too deeply involved for escape. This, they say, caused him to take what he could and flee when he knew that exposure was near.

A checking system, friends of the paymaster say, would have saved Diaz and his family from disgrace and probably would have prevented all scandals in the past.

BURBANK SCHOOLS ARE OVERCROWDED

Heavy Enrollment Makes Schools Almost Too Full This Year

Burbank's growth is evidenced by the over-crowded condition of the schools. The heavy enrollment this year shows that there are a large number of new families moving here, and when the factories that are being constructed have been completed and are working capacity it will be a hard matter to take care of the school children.

Mrs. Lillian Cleveland Neuberger is a new teacher who has been employed to take charge of one section of the primary grade. Other teachers will doubtless be needed before a great while. However, this overcrowded condition of the Burbank schools will be greatly relieved by the completing of the new high school building. At that time the present high school building, it is expected, will be used as a junior high, thereby taking care of a large number of the pupils who are now in the upper grammar grades. At this time there are 75 pupils in the kindergarten, with something like 15 on the waiting list.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HAVE BUSY MONTH

November promises to be a busy month for the Burbank Commercial Club. Judging from the calendar that has been prepared there will be something doing each and every minute. The calendar is as follows: Saturday evening, November 5, card party for members and their families; November 12, club dance; November 15, a club smoker; November 18, afternoon of cards for the ladies; November 23, Thanksgiving ball; November 30, club smoker.

MEN'S CLASS ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR

At its regular meeting last Sunday morning the men's class of the First Christian Sunday school elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing year: President, R. A. Powell; vice-president, G. A. Walton; secretary, W. R. Lemaster; treasurer, L. W. Hammer; musical director, W. N. Meyers; pianist, Robert Birk. Religious and civic programs are held at the regular weekly meetings of this class, which is taught by Rev. L. G. Parker, pastor of the church.

WOMAN'S CLUB IN BUSINESS MEET

A business meeting of the Woman's Club was held Tuesday afternoon in the hall over the Mulvey drug store. A report of the recent meeting of district presidents was given by the president, Mrs. Woods, president, who presided at this meeting. A committee was appointed to look into the condition of the More Vista lodge. A pleasing feature of the afternoon was the paper entitled "Citizenship" read by Mrs. Roy Pendall.

The Randall Construction Company's bid was $9,587 and the Farley & Farley Company's bid was $10,030. The board has received the promise of Johnson that he will complete the building within 90 days.

King of Rum-Runners Tells How He Gets Liquor

(Copyright, 1921, by United Press)

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 28.—Dodging through flotillas of destroyers, playing tag with submarine chasers, cruising close to the breakers, watching for the blink of a light from the shore signalling "all's well" and cleaning up a fortune on a single voyage—these are some of the experiences of an Atlantic coast booze smuggler, as told to the United Press today.

This smuggler is one of many who are bringing cargo after cargo of liquor into this country from the West Indies piling up astounding profits and laughing at the hootch blockade the government tries to maintain against them. His real name cannot be revealed. He will be called Captain X. He is a college graduate and skipper of a speedy sea-going motor boat, capable of carrying 30 tons. While in Norfolk he lives as a law-abiding citizen and resides in a luxurious apartment. While he is resting between trips he docks his rum runner right in Norfolk harbor.

"Here is how we work," he said. "Our shore agents quietly solicit orders from men who are able to buy stocks for their cellars and are willing to pay a good price for high class goods. In two weeks we have enough orders to load my boat."

"We cleared decks for action, so to speak—disposed of all non-essentials and took along an arsenal of six rifles and plenty of ammunition."

"For a crew I had a man who had been taking care of the boat in the harbor and a negro whom I hired to help with the engines and stand watch with us at the wheel."

"Before I sailed our shore agent told me there were two other boats making the trip at about the same time but that they would put into other ports."

"We made the Bahamas in six days and never saw a government craft. It was about two hours after we landed that a man came up, told me he knew I was a rum runner and said he was a dealer and in a position to fill my order. That order included Scotch whiskey, gin, all kinds of brandy and rum and about every kind of liquor you could name but the dealer had them all in his stores.

"Loading the cargo was ticklish work. We knew the government had agents down there looking for bootleggers so they could get ready to intercept us. We worked at night. The booze was carried down to the water front and stowed on barges, under bales of hay. Then we slipped alongside my boat and transferred the cases. Then with our valuable cargo under hatch, we started the real dangerous part of the business. We kept a close watch on the return voyage expecting any minute to have some revenue boat down on us. A fairly big steamer hove in sight one day and passed quite close. We kept right on our way, suspecting nothing when suddenly from behind the steamer popped a submarine chaser, circled the big ship's stern and came for us. We altered our course a couple of times but the chaser kept right on heading for us. Finally I turned and went straight to meet her. We kept our heads down as we passed and laid out a cable over our stern. "She turned around almost on her own axis and did just what we figured she would do, fouled her propeller in the cable. That finished the chase. We went on our way. It was a close shave."

"But the next morning was even more startling. We ran plump into a flotilla of American destroyers. They were all around us. Believe me for a few minutes I thought our cargo wasn't worth a nickel. But they never hailed us and we kept on our way."

"It was dark and rather thick when we made the coast. We were on the point of giving up when blink-blink came the signal of our agent. We were sure glad to see it. We picked our way into a cove and there was the shore agent with three motor trucks waiting for us. We transferred the booze that night and that was as far as I went with it."

"We made $18,000 on that trip. Brown got half and the navigator and the negro were paid handsomely. We have made a number of trips since then and cleaned up each time."

Visit Pasadena—Secretary Rhoades and Assistant Secretary Sanders of the Glendale chamber of commerce attended the formal opening of the new quarters of the Pasadena chamber at noon today. The banquet was served at the Hotel Maryland, where the Pasadena chamber of commerce has rented elaborate quarters. Both Mr. Rhoades and Mr. Sanders gave short addresses.

Seek Location—Messrs. Hathaway and Messler of Hollywood were visitors at the Glendale chamber of commerce recently. These gentlemen are in Glendale with the view of finding a location for a factory in which they will manufacture the famous "Hull Art Colorographs" that are proving popular wherever introduced.

Another NASH

—Have you noticed how often these words appear on the tire covers of new automobiles?

—And have you realized that each time you see them it means "ANOTHER NASH" sold to ANOTHER SATISFIED BUYER? —There are over 4,000 Nash cars in Southern California. Some one of your friends or neighbors has one. Talk with Nash owners. Find out why they prefer a Nash.

—Drive a Nash—make your own tests. Then you will know what Nash Six means.

AMBROSINI'S HOTEL MATERIAL BOUGHT HERE IF POSSIBLE

Company Has Not Yet
Given Contract for Its Erection

"Building material for the Ambrosini Hotel will be purchased in Glendale if it is possible to do so," said Anthony Ambrosini, president of the Ambrosini Hotel Co., today, as he stood on the site of the new hotel at the corner of Broadway and Glendale avenue and viewed the progress of the steam shovel working on the excavation for the hostelry.

"It is a little too early for me to say exactly what material will be purchased in Glendale and what will be bought elsewhere, for I do not know how the local dealers are situated to supply the material required. The contract for the construction of the building has not been let. Roy L. Kent Co. has the contract for the architectural work and may possibly have charge of the erection of the structure. Other contractors may bid on the work, or it may even be done by day labor. In fact, I am inclined toward the plan of building the hotel on the day labor plan and looking after the detail work myself.

"I will say this—no matter who has the contract, the Ambrosini Hotel will be a class A building and will be furnished throughout with the best that money can buy. All material, as far as possible, will be purchased in Glendale, for I am a firm believer in the 'buy at home' slogan."

According to Mr. Ambrosini, the new hotel will have an entrance on Broadway and one on Glendale avenue. The corner of the building will be rented either to a bank or a first class restaurant. On the second floor of the hotel will be a first-class restaurant for the accommodation of guests of the hostelry and the general public. On the main floor there will be a cafeteria for people who wish meals served in that style.

The hotel itself will be larger than planned at first and will have 350 rooms instead of 305, as previously announced. According to Mr. Ambrosini, there have been several applicants, hotel men, to lease the hotel, but no action has been taken on these applications as the Ambrosini Hotel Co. may decide to operate the hostelry.

The first unit will be completed by February 1 if the plans of the com-

NIGHT
Night, like the black-robed nun, who soothes
The aching heart of Pain, and smooths
The crumpled pillow till the brow
Of fever cools and Sleep comes now
To lay her velvet finger-tip
Upon the flushing cheek and slip
With her deft-fingered hands away
This gown of pain that garbs the day.

Night, when the garish fears that pressed
Me through the day, nor gave me rest,
Were softened in thy peace and calm
And when thy cool and healing balm
Was poured upon my wounds,—thy arts
Showed thee the nurse of broken hearts
To slip with these deft hands away
The gown of pain that garbed the day.

And so my song upon the air
Thou bringest in my window there
Must be the kiss my lips would press
In fervent-hearted gratefulness
Upon that velvet hand, to soothe
My pain and make my pillow smooth.
So bless thee, Night, that thou mayst be,
And bless the God who giveth thee.

DOLBERG MAKING PICTURES FOR CLUB

Mr. Dolberg of the Dolberg Studio on West Broadway is very busy these days making pictures of members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, under a proposition to make for the club, free of charge, a photographic record of its membership and give one print of each photograph to the club for its official album.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. McCurdy of 113 South Cedar street moved today to 208 East Dryden street.

pany are successful. As soon as the first unit is completed it will be opened for business and work on the rest of the building will be rushed to completion.

PRESBYTERIANS HAD BIG EVENING

Fine Program is Presented by Heads of Church
Friday

LA CRESCENTA, Oct. 29.—One of the important affairs of the past week was a social evening given by the members of the Presbyterian Sunday school of La Crescenta last evening. Mrs. R. Stein and Mrs. E. Angier were responsible for a delightful program. Among the participants were Misses Sara and Jessie Conlin, Janet Culbertson, Edith Bush and Dorothy Potter. A song by the infant class was much enjoyed. The hospitality committee was composed of Mesdames Mary Thomson, E. Burd and C. Woolery.

Mrs. May R. Banning of Los Angeles is occupying her La Crescenta home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry George left yesterday for Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. E. Hale of Washington is a guest at the La Crescenta Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Jones, who have been residents at the La Crescenta Hotel for many months, have leased the Foster home on Los Angeles avenue and will move there in the near future.

A. W. Brown of Los Angeles avenue reports much activity in real estate and many lots sold during October. M. Coffman and M. Stafford, both of Glendale, each purchased to one-half acre lots. W. McClelland of San Pedro, two one-half acre lots; Earl Young of La Crescenta, one-half acre; Howard N. Gerrish of Cleveland, O., two one-half acre lots; Mrs. E. Corwin of Long Beach, three one-half acre lots; W. Kemper, one-half acre; W. Ames of Los Angeles, ten acres. All these Mr. Brown says will be improved with homes.

Ted Martin, a new and popular realtor, recently put his five-acre tract on Montana avenue on the market and reports most of the lots sold. Mr. Martin is opening two new tracts one on Los Angeles avenue north of Michigan avenue and the other on Michigan avenue.

STEALING TIME IS RISKY BUSINESS

Friday night Harry Greenberg slept in the real estate office of Charles Guthrie on San Fernando road. When he awoke this morning he departed and with him went an alarm clock. Officers Nunn and Stein saw Greenberg walking down the street carrying the alarm clock and took him in custody. He was taken to the police station and booked on a charge of petit larceny. The clock was taken from him and he was locked in the animal cage at fire house No. 1 to mediate on the sin of stealing "time."

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

ROUND-UP DINNER IS BEGINNING PLAN TO GET $50,000

Eighty Men in Drive to Secure Balance of Fund
for New Church

An enthusiastic "round-up" dinner was held Friday night in the chapel room of the Glendale Presbyterian church. The committee of 80 men selected to conduct a canvas Sunday morning of the congregation of the church, was given final instructions. The purpose of the campaign is to raise an additional $50,000 for the erection of the handsome new $150,000 church edifice.

As an indication of the interest and enthusiasm with which the men are taking hold of this campaign, every place in the banquet room was taken. After the repast, which was served by the ladies of the church, Dr. Gilkerson, chairman of the building committee, outlined the plan of campaign. By way of illustrating in a concrete form how the campaign is to be conducted in the homes, well known men gave a practical demonstration of how to approach givers and how not to solicit from them. Rev. Edmonds, pastor of the church, as well as Messrs. Broth and Baird, in charge of the competing teams, gave timely suggestions as did others on the canvas.

About $100,000 was pledged to the new church a year ago. Since that time the membership of the church has increased over 300 and it is principally from those new additions that it is hoped to secure the additional $50,000.

It is the plan of the officials of the church to have the present church building continued as a house of worship. There is also imperative need for the new and larger church. Right now some of the classes of the Sunday school are being held out of doors because there is no room in the present church for enrollment of 600, and the church has a membership of 1,000. The lot at the northwest corner of Harvard and Louise has been purchased and upon this the new church will be built.

NEW BRICK STORE FOR DAVENPORT

Hal Davenport was issued a permit today for the erection of a four-room brick store building to be erected at 1257-59 South Brand boulevard. The building will cost about $8,000 and will be ready in about six weeks. Mr. Davenport said this morning that two of the storerooms have already been engaged. The building will be 58 feet by 70 feet and will be of white and gray glazed brick with deep recessed show windows in each store. The space between the windows and the sidewalk will be made of either art tile or white marble. The general architecture of the front of the building will conform with the front of the adjoining building. The brick work on the building will be done by Harry Betts and J. J. Burk has been awarded the contract for the general carpentering in the building.

ARMY-NAVY STORE HERE NEAR FUTURE

A three-year lease of the store room at 219 South Brand has just been entered into by W. C. Waring, who will establish an Army and Navy store. Mr. Waring comes from Montclair, N. J., and with his family motored from that city to Los Angeles, a distance of 5000 miles about two months ago. On the way they took in Yellowstone Park, Crater Lake and Yosemite.

On the way to Los Angeles they passed through Glendale and Mr. Waring was much impressed by the beauty of its situation, its wide, attractive streets and its general air of hustle. After looking around various suburbs of Los Angeles, including Pasadena, he decided Glendale was the place to settle in. He has purchased a home on South Maryland avenue.

Visits Son—J. M. Brown of Tacoma arrived in Glendale for a visit of a few days with his son, P. C. Brown of the Glendale Realty Co. Mr. Brown, who is 78 years old, is very well pleased with Glendale in general.

Bike Gone—Raymond Frey, 443 Salem street, reported to the police Thursday night that his bicycle had been stolen from in front of the Palace Grand theater.
